

Abstract

The invention of the license plate Loover is to put a stop to unauthorized photos of license plates. A photo of a license plate is not a way to determine whether or not a situation was not the cause of an outcome. The license plate Loover will help to protect people from having their rights violated and to prevent private companies from profiting from and earning royalties off of photos of people's personal property without their authorization.